BROORLYN—SALVINI—MONDAY—MORTE CIVILE. In announcing the first performance in America of an Italian version of Shakspeare's sublime tragedy of Mr. Grau deems it not inappropriate to remark that an unusual interest attaches to Signor SALVIN'S rendering of the title role. His rending of the character of the unhappy Prince of Demmark is reputed to be fully as bold, impressive and original as was his MASTERLY IMPERSONATION OF OTHELLO, the performance that has stamped him as GRAND OPERA HOUSE. the performance that has stamped him as THE GREATEST TRAGEDIAN OF THE AGE. Without seeking to anticipate orticism, it may be observed that, discarding the time-honored traditions of the ENGLISH and AMERICAN STAGE, Signor Salvini has developed for this, the most intellectual of the Shakspersan charter of the conspicuous alike for its SCHOLARLY BRAUTY and CLASSIC DIGNITY.

Though opinions may justly vary as to the true ideal of the FOCTS GRANDEST CREATION, but one verdict has been deemed possible in Italy concerning SALVINI'S HAMLET, and that proclaims it to be a most EXALTED EFFORT OF DRAMATIC GENIUS, and as such at its submitted to the appreciative public of America. BOWERY THEATRE.
